Starting in 2007 we added the dimension of radio broadcast, allowing listeners across the United States and Canada to enjoy the programs that previously could only be appreciated by live audiences in Washington, D.C. This year's series, recorded live in Gabriel Hall in the fall of 2009, is guest hosted by Dick Golden and features performances by New York Voices, Joey DeFrancesco, and Gary Smulyan.

A Day in the Life...

The Airmen of Note By Technical Sgt. Paige Martin Vocalist, The Airmen of Note

As the vocalist in the Airmen of Note, I am one of 14 people in the history of the world to have ever "officially" held this position. Having waited the better part of 10 years in the civilian world for an opening in this band, I can assure you I absolutely adore my day-to-day life. To sum up what a typical day in the "Note" office looks like, however, is no simple task as there is no such thing as typical.

With thousands of hours of musical takes to edit and a tight deadline to meet, Chief Master Sgt. Barbara Taylor is an Airman on a mission. She is the producer of The United States Air Force Band's upcoming compact disc (CD), "Off We Go," intended for wide release in December.

"Off We Go" is a full CD, intended to encompass the history of American air power going back to the days of Orville and Wilbur Wright. One track, dubbed "The Bicycle Shop," is arranged to replicate the sounds and struggles of man's first flight. A later track, "Short Ride in a Fast Machine" will put the listener in the cockpit of a modern fighter plane, while "Aurora Borealis" speaks to the Air Force's unique presence in space. The CD's title track, "Off We Go," tells the story of the Air Force Song.
